

PREPPER

— LONE WOLF —

Story

"Our world is a dangerous place. Artificial intelligence, asteroid impacts, civil wars, earthquakes, economic collapse, famine, pandemics, societal breakdown, solar flares, supervolcanoes, and war — the threats are legion.

Preppers are those who clearly see the fragility of modern life and choose to prepare. They stock food and water, build fallout shelters, secure self-defense tools, tend kitchen gardens, raise livestock, and ultimately pursue the dream of off-grid self-sufficiency.

Most are decent, family-oriented people who stand ready to help their communities in times of crisis. Yet a dangerous few care only for themselves. These lone wolves place no value in community—they stand ready to steal others' hard-earned resources and view the prepared as nothing more than prey.

Which type of prepper will you be?"
